Influence with Wisdom

Questions for Contemplation Following The Session

What are your main objections/roadblocks to having a family Bible time?

Would you consider talking through these with a trusted friend or church leader to try to come up with solutions? If so, put down this sheet and reach out to that person before moving on.

START WITH THE END IN MIND

Take a moment to think about your child in the future. Their bags are packed, and they're about to drive away. What 3 spiritual skills/character traits do you most want them to be equipped with when that time comes?

1.

3.

As you begin prayerfully considering how to make your family your child's ultimate small group, keep those 3 things in mind. How will you design this time in order to best prepare your child for a lifetime of walking with Christ?

Look over the Family Small Group Resources document and think back to this week's session. Jot down some ideas you have for starting or improving your family Bible time. Be as specific as possible, asking God for wisdom and direction as you plan.

A few thoughts as you plan...

- Keep it simple.
- Stay flexible.
- Be willing to adjust.
- Evaluate and make necessary changes as you go.
- As for help and wisdom when you need it.
- PRAY—Philippians 4:6-7
